

Chiron Last | 88 Keys

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=d601Vxolygo>

88 Keys

The Eternal can never be attained through the repetitive pursuit of temporary satisfactions. When you are truly free from Desire, the very root of it has been pulled up and is no longer part of you. Then you are also free from anxiety, worry, fear, and all of the rest of these elements that coerce you into chasing after everything that you feel separated from. There is then a total comprehension of why there is nowhere to go. A total comprehension of being completely content, of being complete. Convincing yourself that you are in this state and legitimately being in it are quite different qualities. So long as there is the desire to chase after anything there is still desire and thus the seeds remain sown into the root of your being which are able to continue growing and manifesting the whole structure of the problem. As long as there is desire there can never be freedom, and the fight against this fact creates all kinds of anguish, fear and self-pity. Self-pity which buries itself once again into egotism, which propels you to chase after your own ideas to begin the same process all over again.

An endless chase after nothing.

The eternal can never be attained through the repetitive pursuit of temporary satisfactions. When you are truly free from desire – the very root of it has been pulled up and is no longer part of you – then you are also free from anxiety, worry, fear, and all the rest of these elements that coerce you into chasing after everything that you feel separated from. There is then a total comprehension of why there is ‘nowhere to go.’ A total comprehension of being completely content. Of being complete. Convincing yourself that you are in this state, and legitimately being in it, are quite different qualities. So long as there is the desire to chase after anything, there is still desire, and thus the seeds remain sown into the root of your being which are able to continue growing and manifesting the whole structure of the problem. As long as there is desire, there can never be freedom, and the fight against this fact creates all kinds of anguish, fear, and self-pity. Self-pity which buries itself once again into egotism which propels you to chase after your own ideas to begin the same process all over again.

An endless chase after nothing.

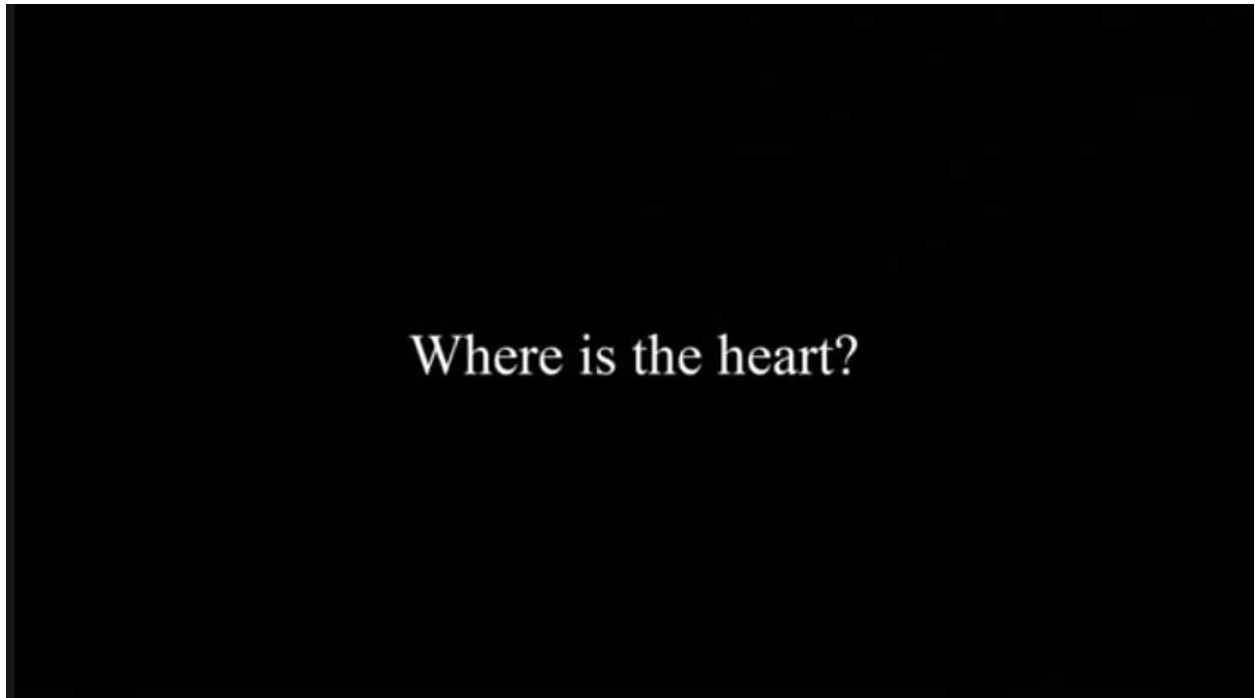

Where is the Heart? All of Creation centers itself around this question, its significance being incomprehensible.

The very few who are truly serious about wanting the truth will let this question sink into the very Foundation of their being.

Where is the Heart?

It will be noted here that one must also learn to see in the dark.

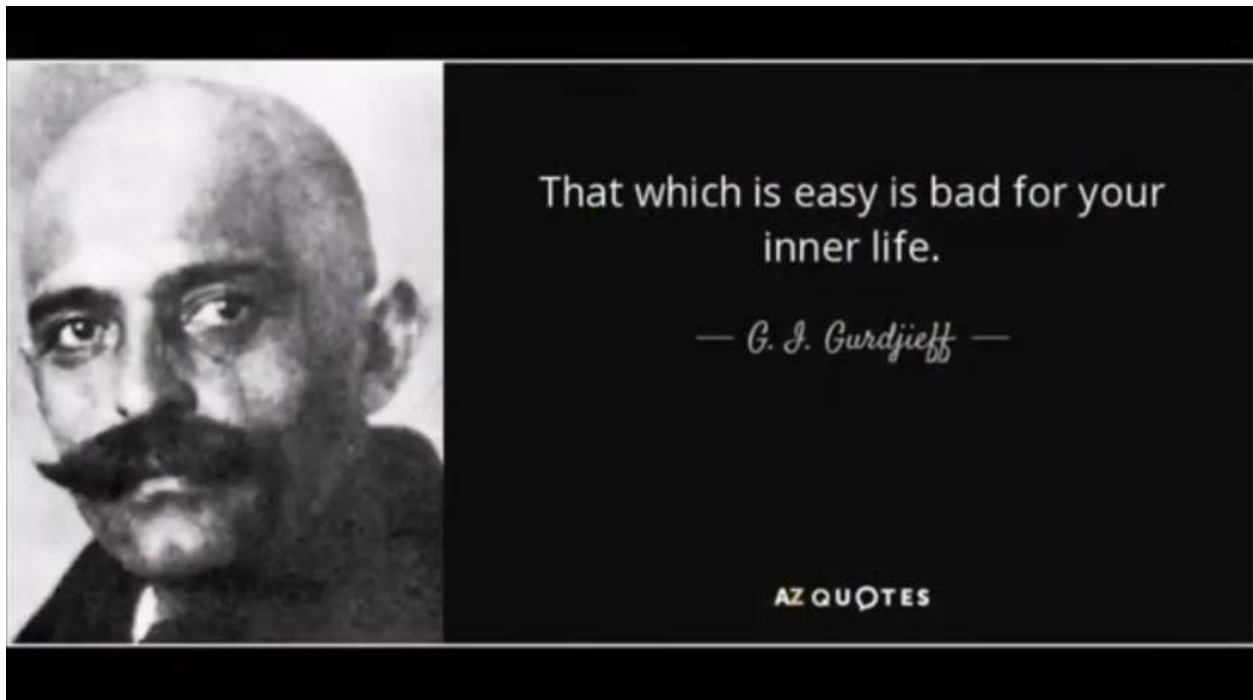

If it wasn't made clear before it will be now. This is NOT entertainment.

This is NOT entertainment.

Those who treat Creation like a joke, shall also be treated like a joke.

The Spirit is severely demanding and to walk its path requires a total effort.

It is seen though that this really hasn't been fully comprehended.

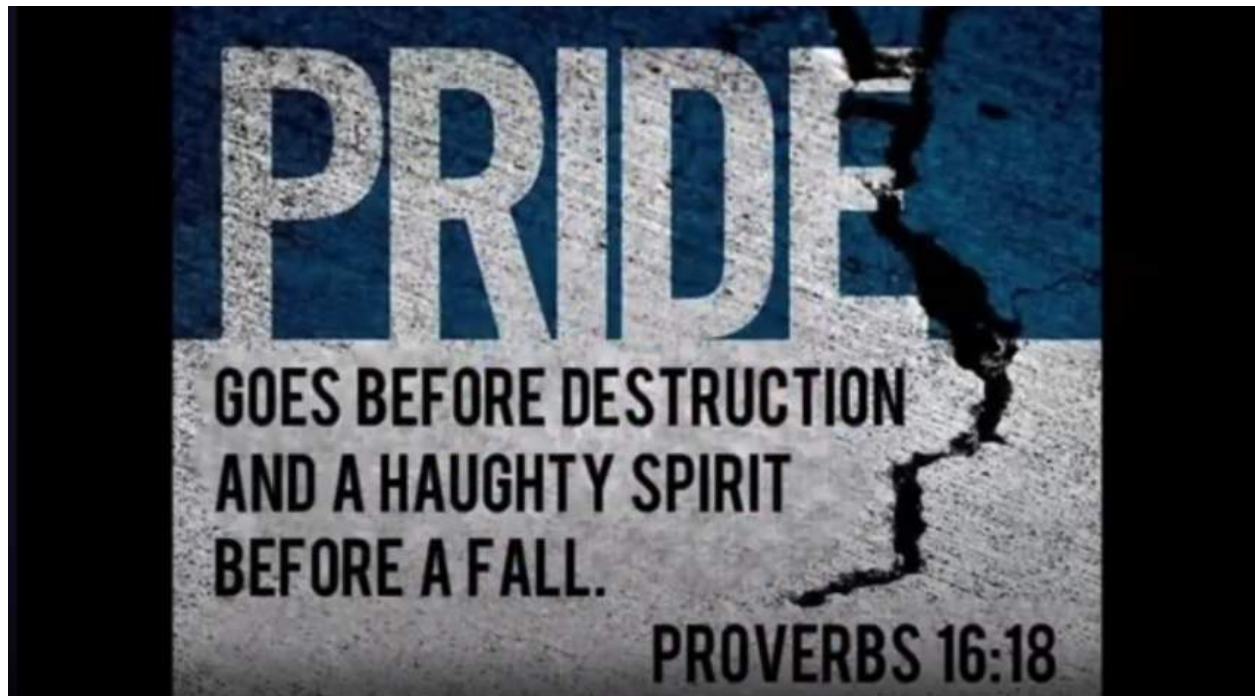

This world has once again been turned into a chaotic circus act.

And those in it have so little sensitivity tied in with such an elevated sense of self-importance that the very basics of who and what we legitimately are have been all but forgotten.

Haughtiness is the order of each day and the small petty ideas of individualized success and achievement receive the Crown of Glory, while one arrogantly assumes that all of Eternity bows down before their infantile notions and vainglorious acts.

The amount of presumption it takes to believe that the whole Earth is only here to serve our little ideas goes beyond the absurd.

It has forgotten who is really in charge. It has been forgotten that the Entirety is not in service to the piece (peace), it is instead the piece that must be in service to the Entirety.

Entirety is obviously rearranged into Eternity.

'Entirety' is obviously rearranged into 'eternity.'

The miscomprehension towards this basic and essential fact is also what keeps one tethered to this realm - forever enslaved to its false DE-Lights (darkness/away from light) and material trappings. This realm is entirely about service to "self" ('Do What Thou Wilt').

The reversal of this basic Truth is the footing from which every House of Lies is built upon. And there is not a single lie that survives the test of time. Not one.

Each of us is either in service to the Eternal and the Truth or we are solely in service to ourselves which is a fiction.

Each of us is either in service to the eternal and the truth, or we are solely in service to ourselves which is a fiction.

Another way of putting this: it is to be in service to the Heart and the Infinite, or to be in service to the Mind and The Limited. The Limited with its fleeting pleasures, egotistical concepts, and narrow-minded pursuits.

The Limited House of Lies that looks at the Earth and says: "It's just there to serve me. I can do whatever I want with it to achieve my grand ideas of success." It says: "In here, I am God, and I get to decide what is best."

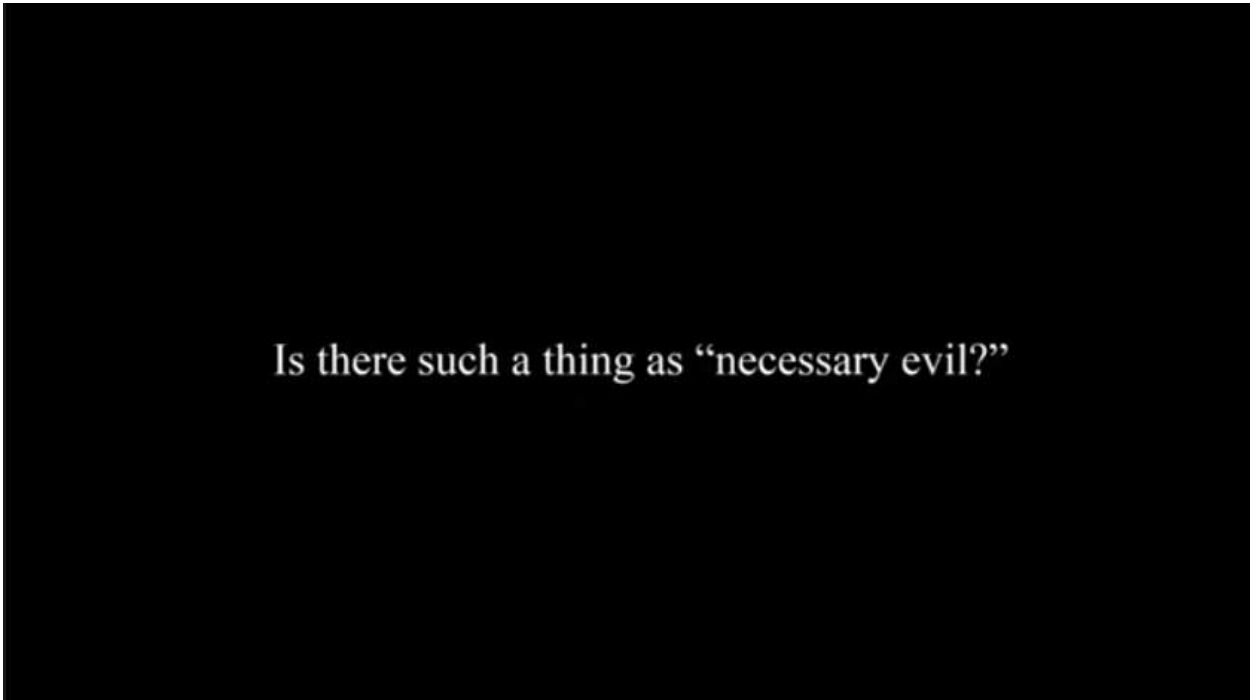

The limited house of lies looks at the Earth and says, "It's 'just there' to serve me. I can do whatever I want with it to achieve my grand ideas of success!" It says, "In here, I am God, and I get to decide what is best."

Where is the Heart? ❤️ This question is the root from which the last of these messages will be delivered for the end of the road and the full weight of the Truth is coming. The truth that will meet the LIE.

Where is the heart?

It was asked if there is such a thing as a “necessary evil”. There is! And the use of this life-destroying technology to deliver these messages has been one of those necessary evils.

Is there such a thing as “necessary evil?”

To believe in technology is to believe in the machine.

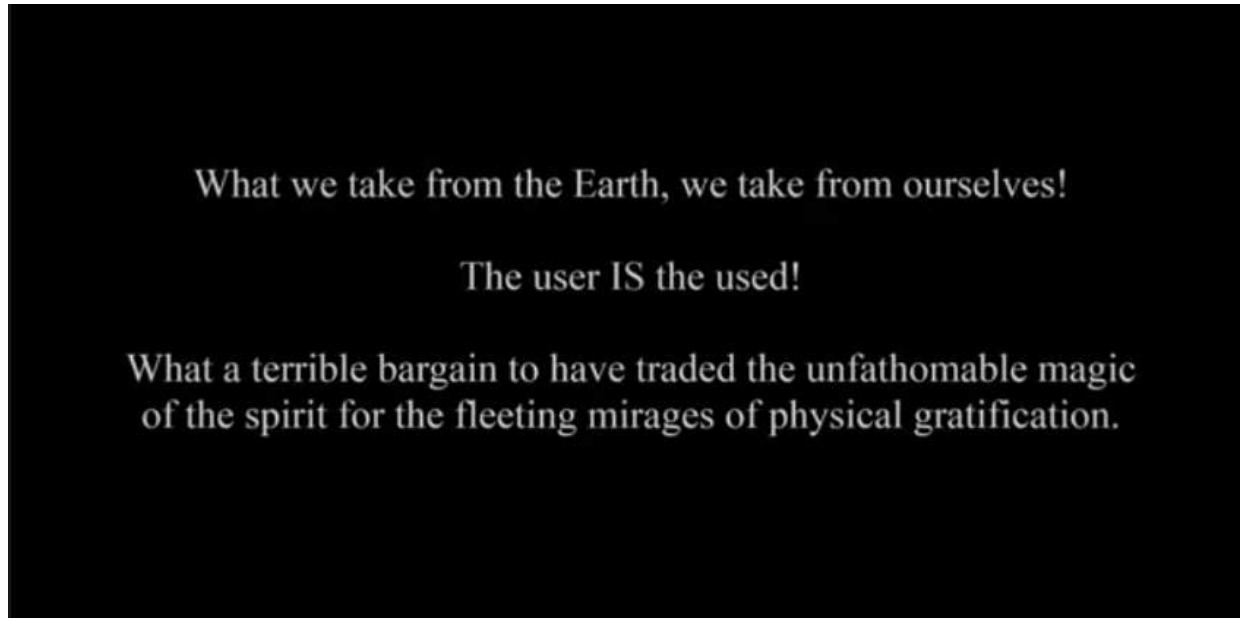

And the magic of Creation in this beautiful Earth has been destroyed to create a monster with an endless and voracious appetite.

Bytes really do mean bites! And the word “Terre” means Earth. The symbol in computer technology, of going from bits and megabytes, to gigabytes and terabytes, is not some quirky and meaningless coincidence. It is a reflection of what is being done to the Earth. It is also no coincidence that “Tera” is from the Greek word meaning “monster”.

What we take from the Earth we take from ourselves. The user IS the used. What a terrible bargain to have traded the unfathomable magic of the Spirit for the fleeting mirages of physical gratification.

Individual hubris is so intensely concentrated, so thick and impenetrable, that it fails to see the obvious. It fails to see the basics. Individual contribution is still contribution, which is why the little is the big.

Those who point the finger and say that all problems must be solved outside of oneself also fail to check themselves.

The external savior program completely caters to this mentality.

And how many have been caught up in the external Fifth Dimension outside savior program!?

Believing that one has done their research is aware of the general deceptions here, is emanating some perceived proper amount of positivity, and will one day soon be vibrated into some type of higher plane of existence.

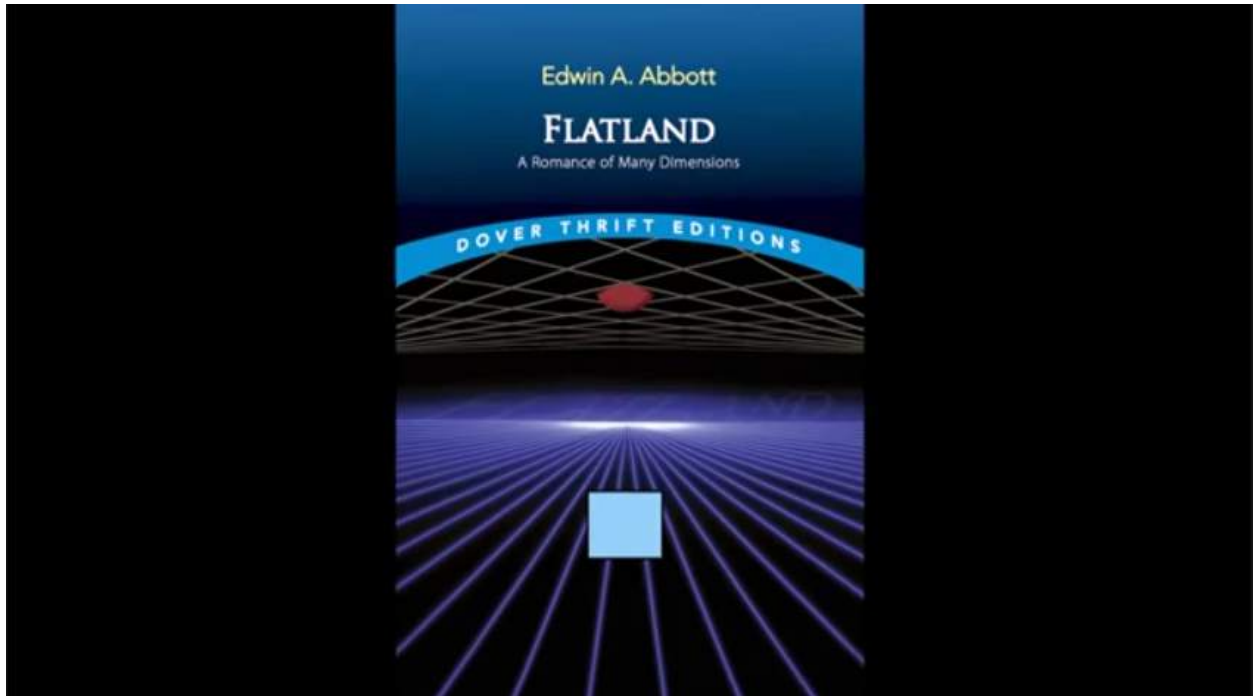

There is no difference between this belief and any other religious notion of a Heavenly afterlife whereby a person's biological imprint will be carried into the Infinite Beyond. There is only One Key that opens the gates to the Eternal Kingdom. And a sheer belief in being transported to some alternate reality or Fifth Dimension is not that key.

There is no difference between this belief (in some 'numbered dimension' of MENTAL consciousness) and any other other religious notion of a heavenly afterlife whereby a person's biological imprint will be carried into the infinite beyond. There is only ONE key that opens the gates to the ETERNAL Kingdom, and a sheer belief in being transported to some alternate reality, or fifth dimension, is NOT that key.

(Or 6th, or 11th, or 785th dimension. These are all just mind games. We are not infinite "consciousness." We are an Infinite Heart Based Being. Infinite SPIRIT!)

Instead the question that needs to be asked is this: "What have I done today for my brothers and sisters that have fallen behind me?" In this human race where everyone is trying to get ahead in the pursuit of building temporary little Empires, who is looking behind themselves, to see who has been left behind? Who is doing everything they can to lift the spirit of those who have fallen right to the bottom of this world which is a place with the least amount of light?

The question that needs to be asked is this, "What have I done today for my brothers and sisters that have fallen behind me?" In this human 'race' where everyone is trying to get 'A-Head' in the pursuit of building temporary little empires, who is looking behind themselves to see who has been left behind? Who is doing everything they can to lift the spirit of those who have fallen right to the bottom of this world, which is a place with the least amount of light?

(Remember: 'Hell' means "Light" and "Concealed," hence, "Concealed Light." In other words...Darkness. It is not for no reason that it is stated that one MUST learn to "see in the dark.")

If one wants to walk the path of the Heart and the Spirit this is the way.

It is not accumulating information, endlessly storing up supplies to prepare for the collapse of society, building up one's bank accounts, or chasing dreams that are built upon borrowed concepts and insipid ideologies.

The Paradox must be resolved. And to do this means turning selfishness into selflessness, from taking to giving.

The paradox must be resolved, and to do this means turning selfishness into selflessness. From taking to giving.

(From $1 = 0$ to $0 = 1$)

Hubris keeps one at a deep distance from those who are considered lesser in this world.

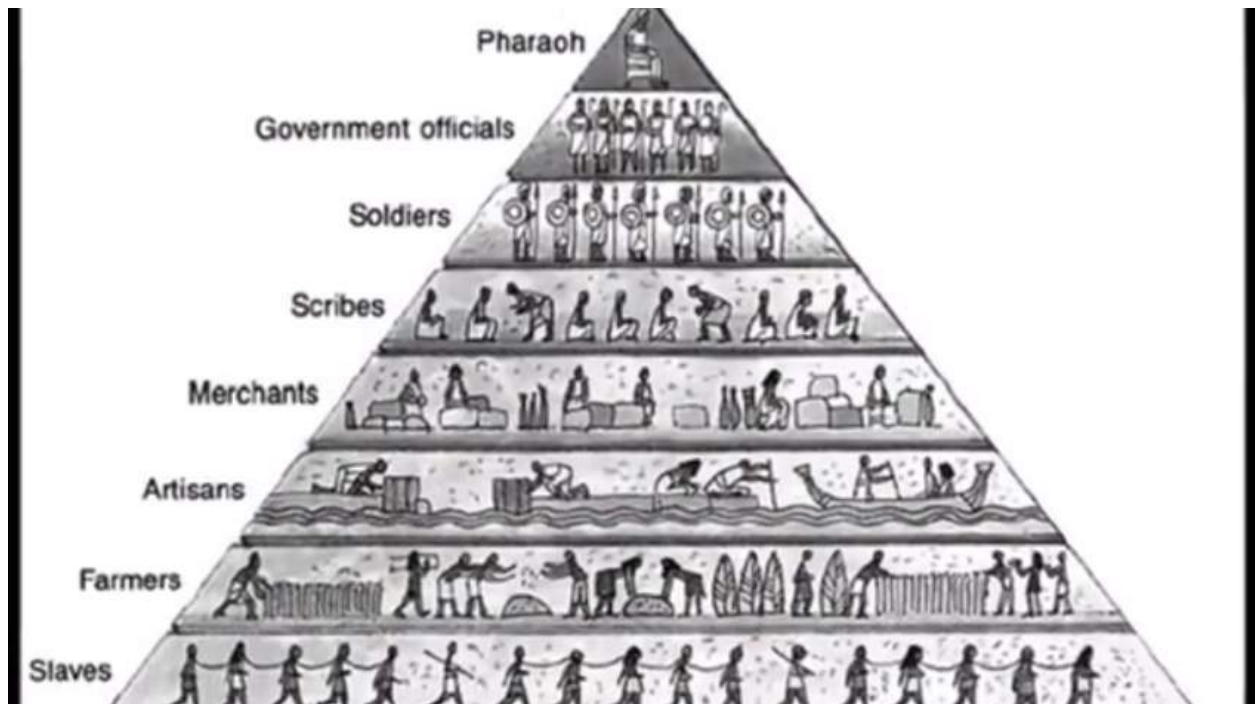

The rare exceptions aside, that which is called the self prefers to do its giving to those who are of the same class level as one finds themselves at.

The rich help the rich, the middle class assist the middle class, and the poor are only able to help the poor if it's at all possible.

Cleverness will want to point out the few exceptions to this but this still remains the rule. It's all very hierarchical and there is no Heart in it.

Any positive feelings one might attain from this style of giving are rendered from the mind which remains rooted in service to the self.

A so-called random act of kindness needs to be displayed on social media so that one can feel good about themselves and their grand gesture. It says: “Everyone look at this charitable thing that I have done”, so that one may receive glorification for their self-appointed act of generosity, the meaning of which was only found once it became recognized in the eyes of the public.

The Rarity is the one, who, in true humility, gives everything and hopes that no one even notices.

And He looked up and saw the rich putting their gifts into the treasury, and He saw also a certain poor widow putting in two mites. So He said, "Truly I say to you that this poor widow has put in more than all; for all these out of their abundance have put in offerings for God, but she out of her poverty put in all the livelihood that she had"

Luke 21:1-4

Perhaps the Way of Heaven may be likened to the stretching of a composite bow! The upper part is depressed, while the lower is raised. If the bow-string is too long, it is cut short: if too short, it is added to.

The Way of Heaven diminishes the more-than-enough to supply the less-than-enough. The way of man is different: it takes from the less-than-enough to swell the more-than-enough. Who except a man of the Tao can put his superabundant riches to the service of the world?

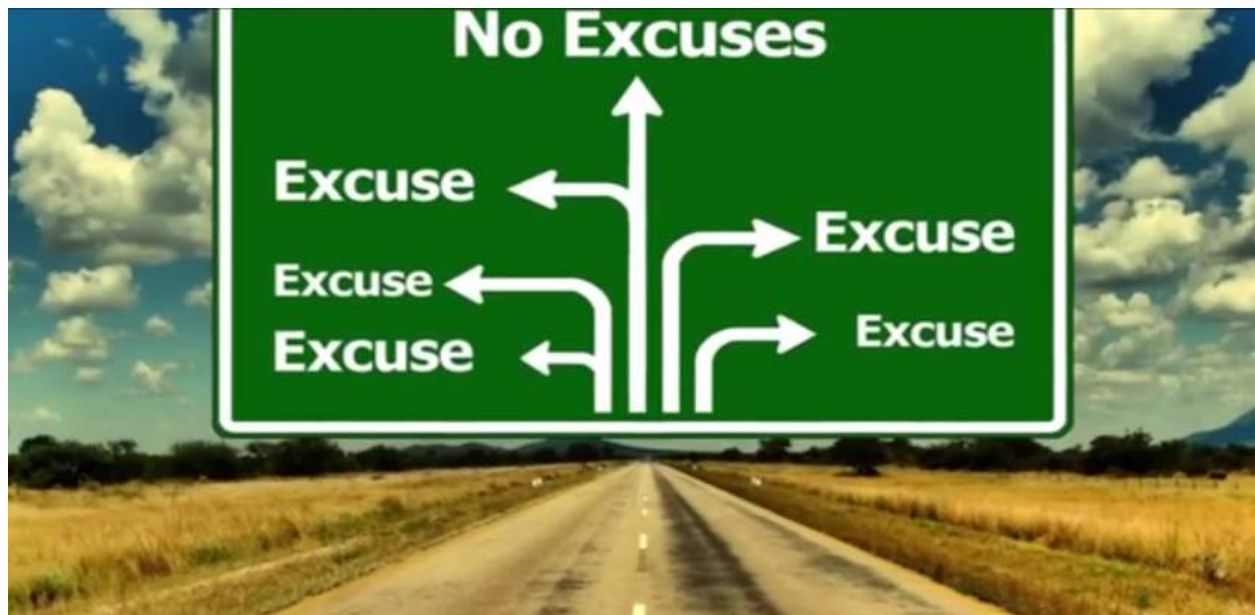

Therefore, the Sage does his work without setting any store by it, accomplishes his task without dwelling upon it. He does not want his merits to be seen.

- Lao Tzu

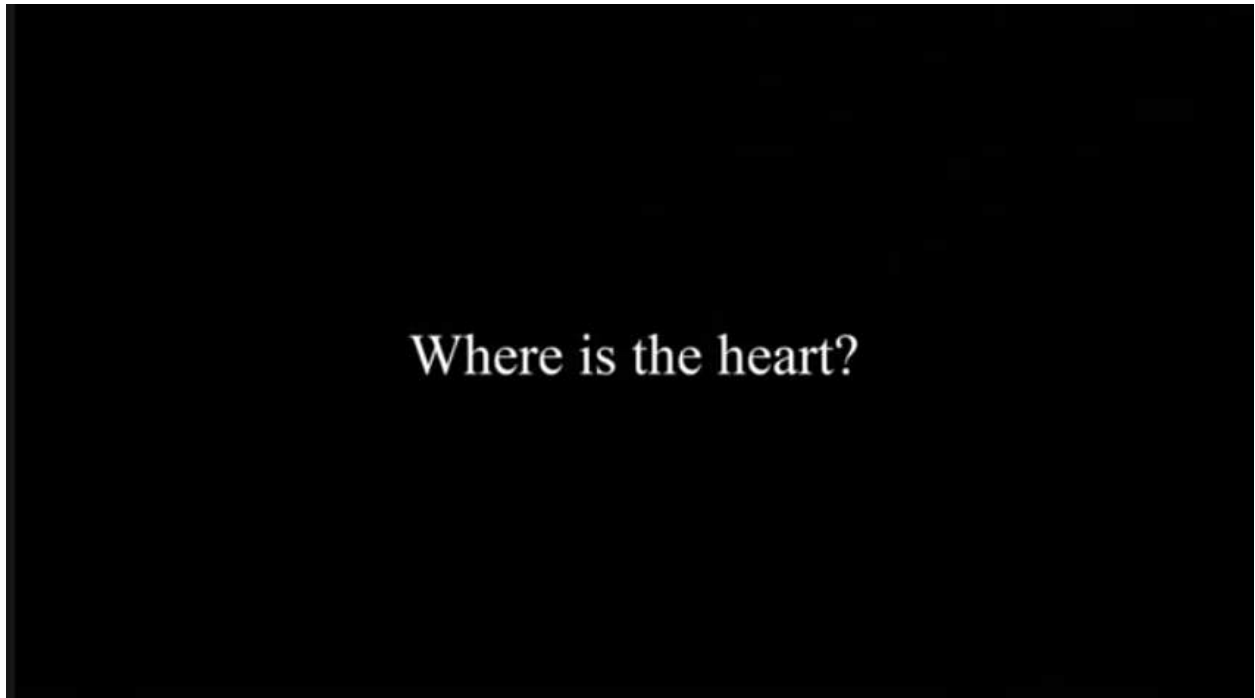

Always be asking: "What have I done today for my brothers and sisters that have fallen behind me?" This indicates automatically that one should be last. If any want to comprehend the true meaning behind the symbol of "Last"—this is the essential meaning: Be Last! When one is last, not one of our fellow brothers and sisters are left behind, not one. Be Last in the so-called human "race" and pick up those who have fallen behind instead of always looking ahead.

Always be asking, "What have I done today for my brothers and sisters that have fallen behind me?" This indicates automatically that one should be last. If any want to comprehend the true meaning behind the symbol of "LAST," this is the essential meaning. Be Last! When one is last, not one of our fellow brothers and sisters are left behind. Not one! Be Last in the so called human 'race,' and pick up those who have fallen behind instead of always "looking a-head."

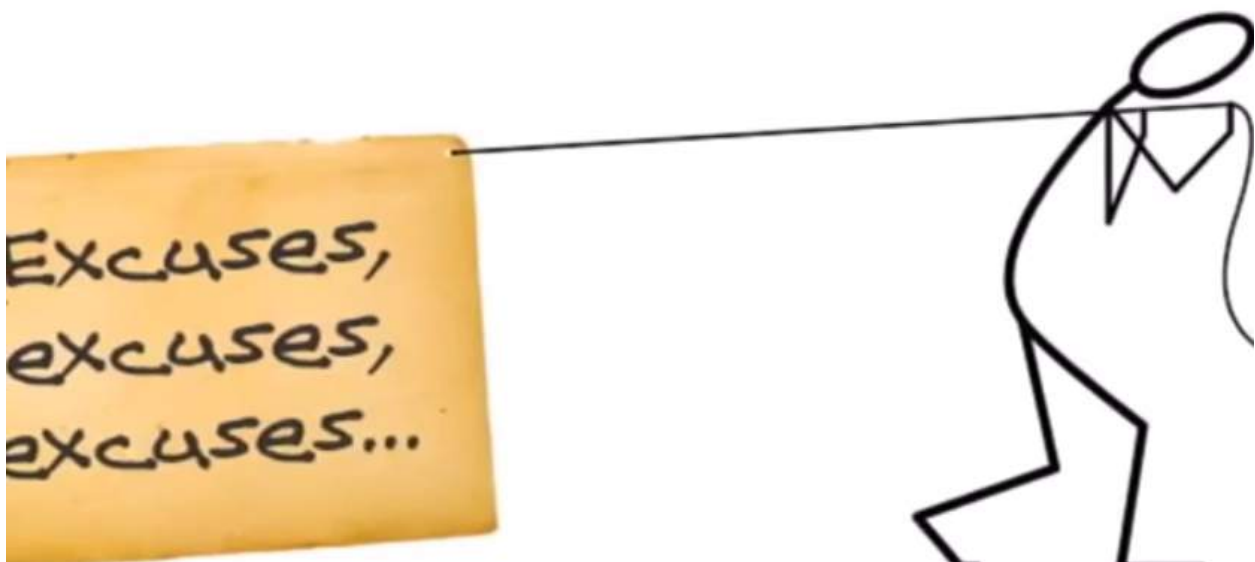

The excuses of course against doing this are many: "That life is already so hard. Things are expensive. I'm struggling myself as it is. I have my own family to worry about! What can I possibly do for others that will make any real difference?!" And on, and on.

Where is the Heart?!

These excuses fail to see the basic premise again. You are being challenged. And to overcome this challenge of an eternity takes profound effort.

Self-pity wants to be nihilistic when it hears this, and will throw its arms in the air, and say: "I give up! This is all too difficult!"

How many refuse to see that there are those in far worse Hells than they themselves are?!

Remember: 'Hell' means "Light" and "Concealed," hence, "Concealed Light."
In other words...Darkness.

The clever mind will project onto the speaker and condescendingly say: "What exactly have you done?! Who are you to tell anyone what to do?!"

How the speaker walks the path is between this Heart and the Spirit. And that's all that needs to be said about that.

Therefore, the Sage does his work without setting any store by it, accomplishes his task without dwelling upon it.

HE DOES NOT WANT HIS MERITS TO BE SEEN.

- Lao Tzu

What is being presented here is not simply the correct approach but is simultaneously the opportunity of an Eternity. If any have to be convinced of this, they should not even be here listening.

There is still so much circus entertainment out there to indulge in and it is suggested that the selfish mind get busy consuming as much of it as possible while it's still able to.

It is the same with all of the so-called “truthers” out there that still love to constantly be entertained by so much violence and sexuality, thinking that they are finding some hidden meaning and encoded messages in these sorted and twisted pieces of entertainment. How puerile and childish!

Which brings us to the symbolic aspect of this message.

It will first be stated that for those who are shown the symbol of this time to come will have one of two approaches: they will act out of fear or out of courage.

There will be those who keep watching the symbol believing that they just need to prepare for its moment of arrival. And they will somehow secure for themselves a position of survival, or even a place in the Eternal Kingdom, simply because they are being observant.

This is where the group of Preppers and survivalists fits in. The ones who stock up, hoard food, buy gold and silver, and believe that the continuity of their bodily existence is of the most supreme importance. Thinking nothing of the Spirit.

It is not just Preppers that fit into this category, but everyone who looks into the mirror and thinks what they see in the reflection is the totality of who and what they are.

Only he who is willing to give his body for the sake of the world is fit to be entrusted with the world.
Only he who can do it with love is worthy of being the steward of the world.

- Lao Tzu

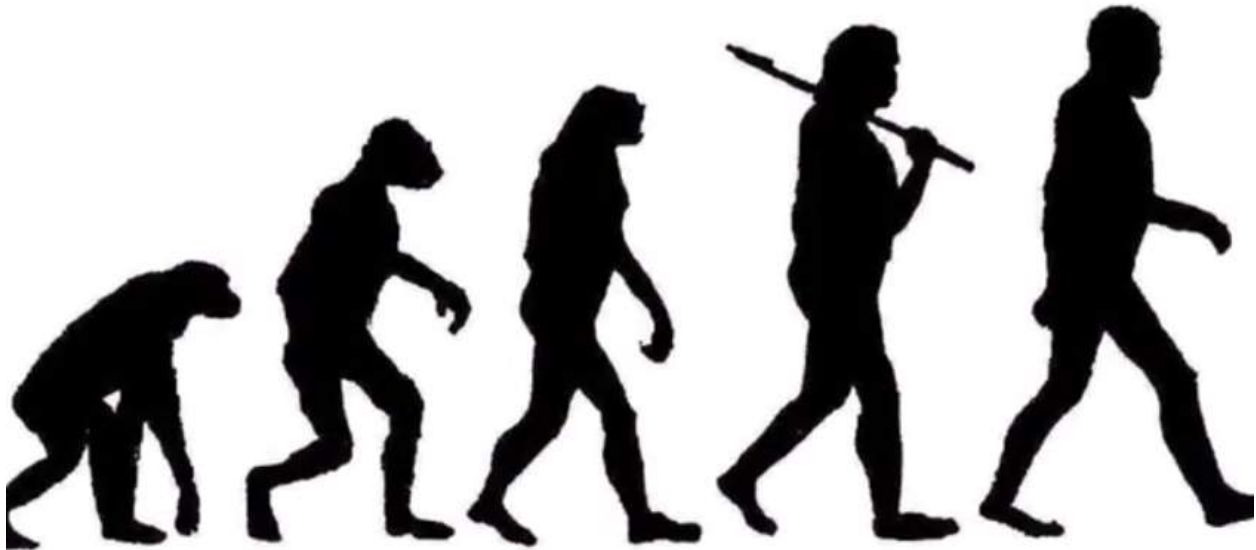

It is the one who would see their brother or sister fall down on the long walk through the desert, and instead of giving the last sip of water in the canteen to them, takes it for themselves, because the other is deemed to be done for.

And the mind justifies its action by saying: "At least one of us might survive."

It is a heartless, survival-of-the-fittest, evolutionist-style mindset.

This is also what is to come in the near future.

Whereby humanity is stripping the Earth bare and turning it into a desert. In the time to come there will be only deserts of the Heart. Everyone's scrambling for the last scraps and doing the worst to one another to attain them. Just deserts. Just desserts. The Heart would be LAST!

Whereby humanity is stripping the Earth/Heart bare and turning it into a desert, in the time to come there will be only deserts of the heart. Everyone scrambling for the last scraps, and doing the worst to one another to attain them.
Just deserts. Just desserts.

The heart would be LAST.
(Not in the 'game' AT ALL!)

It would not only give that last sip of water to their fallen brother or sister—it would also do everything it could to carry them out of that hell with seemingly no energy and nothing left to give. The Heart still finds a way. It still finds something within. It finds the Spirit. This is the correct path to walk. It is the path that leads to the Eternal. The one who sees the symbol, and would walk the path of courage, sees that they were on the wrong highway for far too long, and it is now time to change the course.

The heart would not only give that last sip of water to their fallen brother or sister – it would also do everything it could to carry them out of that hell. With seemingly no energy, and nothing left to give, the heart still finds a way. It still finds something within. It finds the Spirit. This is the correct path to walk. It is the path that leads to the eternal. The one who sees the symbol, and would walk the path of courage, sees that they were on the wrong highway for far too long, and it is now time to change the course.

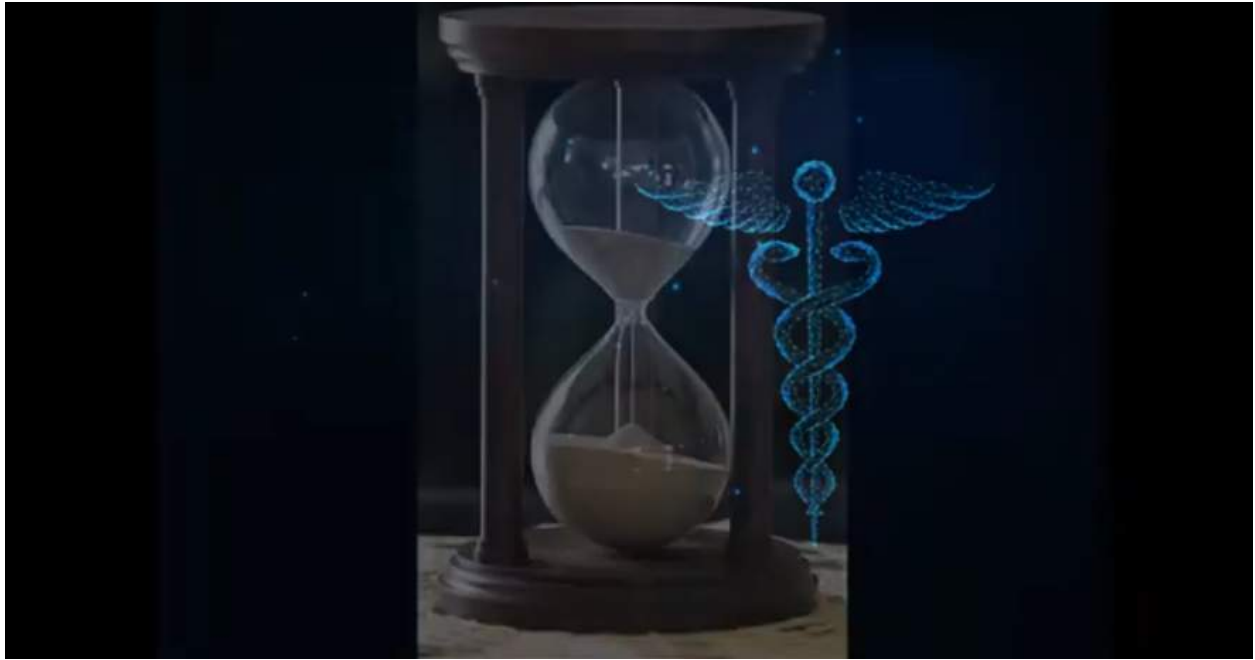

The symbol has been obvious but very few have paid attention.

The most obvious form of it is seen on a digital clock that is displaying no time and a flashing of 88:88.

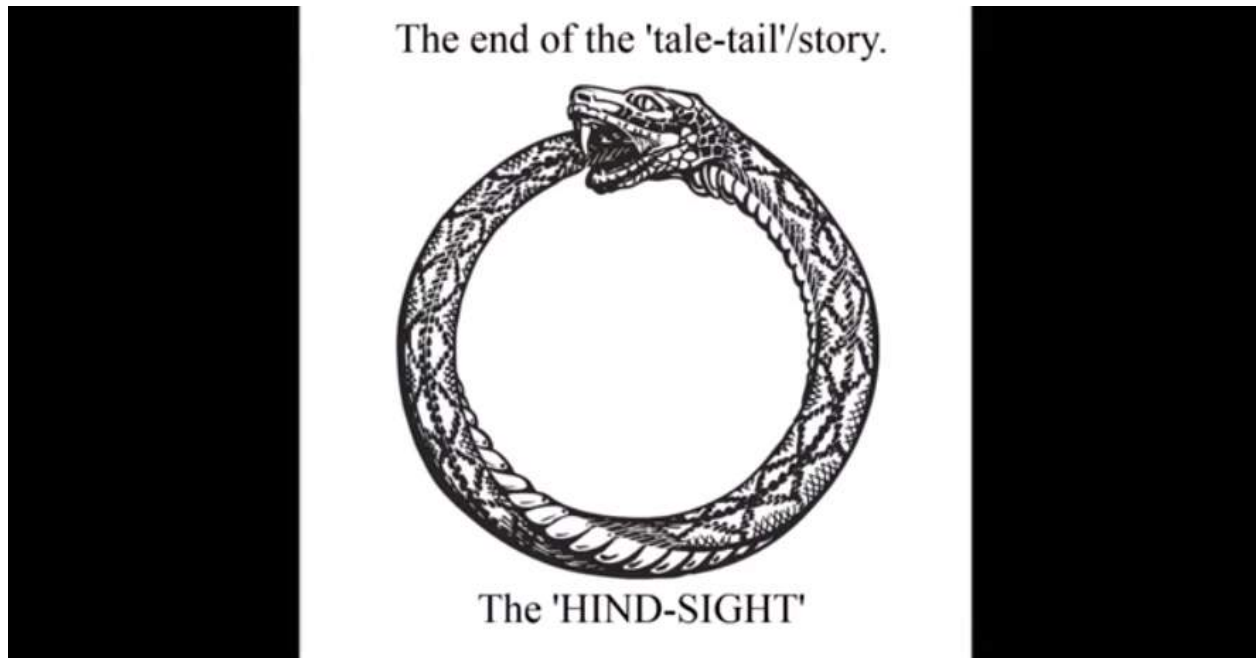

The indication of 'No Time', simultaneously meaning that one has run out of time.

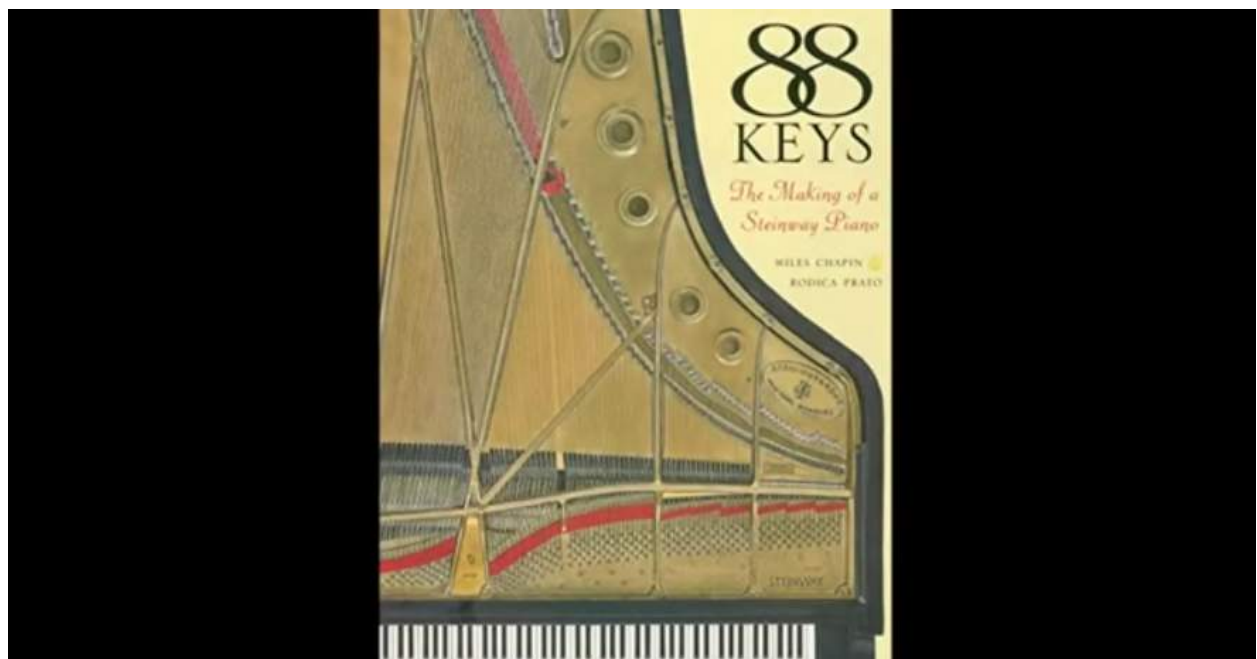

The very beginning of this reality is meeting the very end of it. The top of the hour has reached the bottom, and so on, and so forth.

This is essentially where we are at now. There is very little time left. The Paradox is to be resolved. The circle must always complete itself.

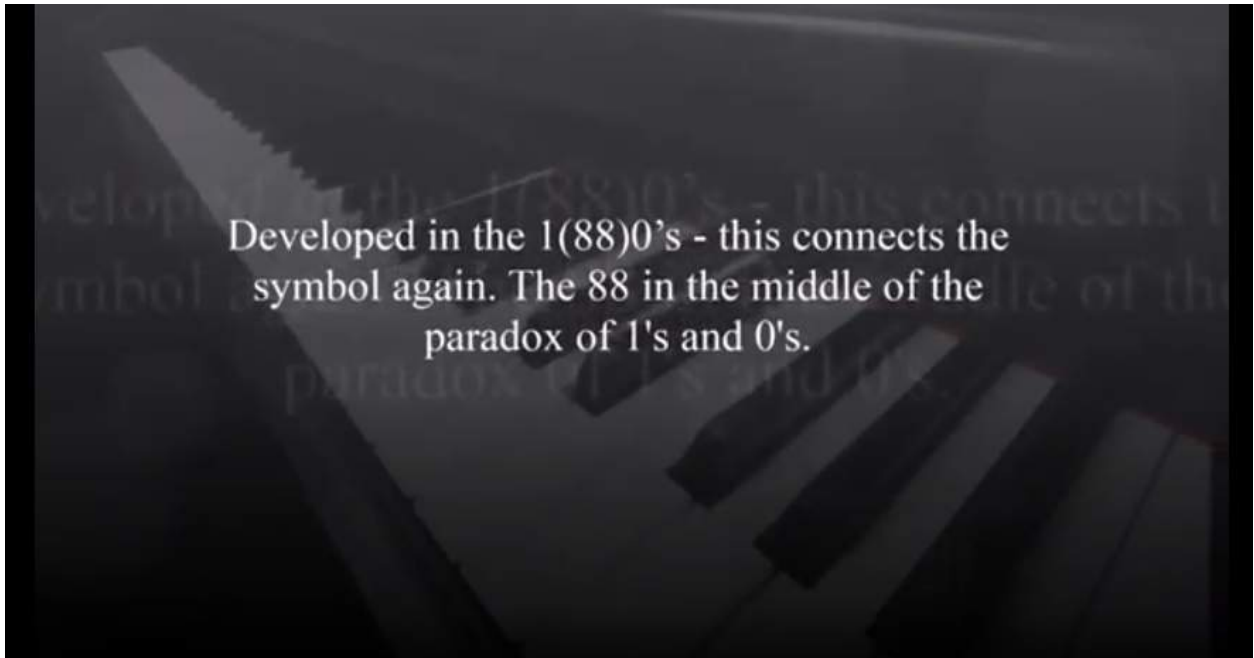

A standard piano has keys—all black and white to indicate the paradox of this realm of ones and zeros.

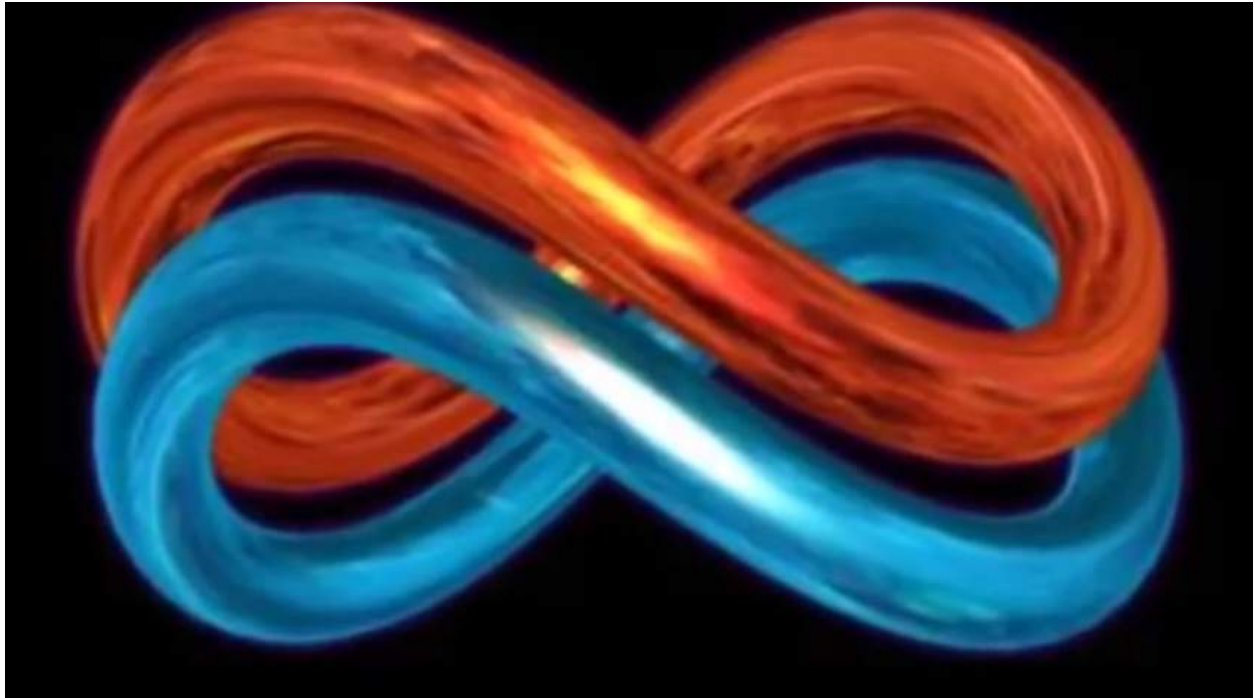

The manufacturer, Steinway, developed the standard in the 1880s, which connects the symbol again. The 88 in the middle of the paradox of 1s and 0s.

It needs to be pointed out 88 is also two infinity signs, which gives the polarity of the two Eternal sides of the checkerboard reality that are playing on this game board of Life.

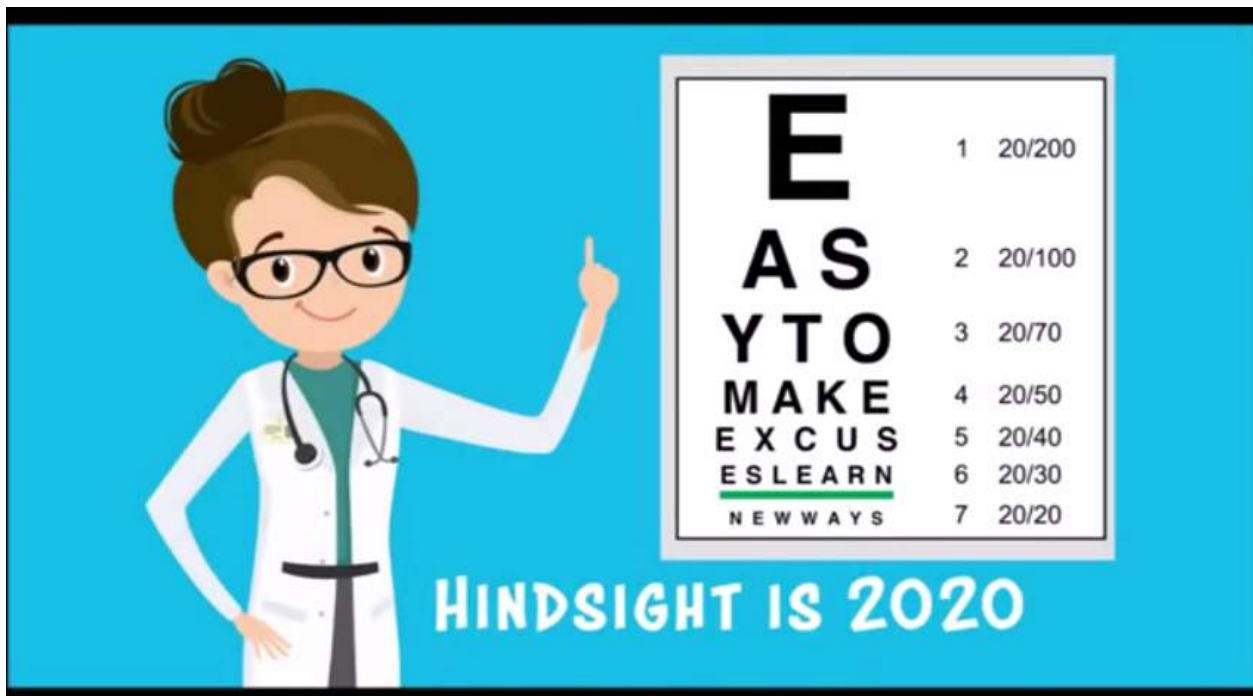

The battle between Good and Evil, as it were.

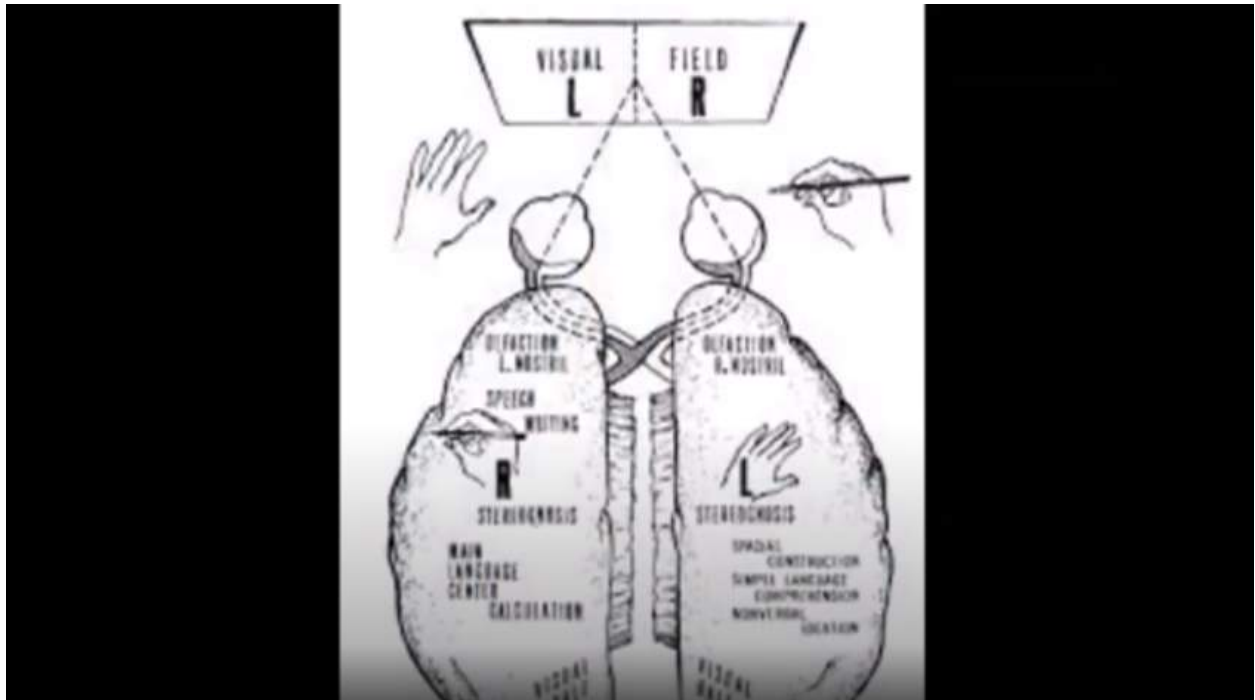

The number eight is furthermore the Ouroboros, which is the snake of the Paradox that inevitably consumes itself at the end of its time.

This is cognate with the symbol of 2020, and the Perfect Vision, which is also Hindsight.

It is hindsight because the snake head can now see its 'tail' / 'tale' and the consequence of what it means to have a divided Vision that consumes itself.

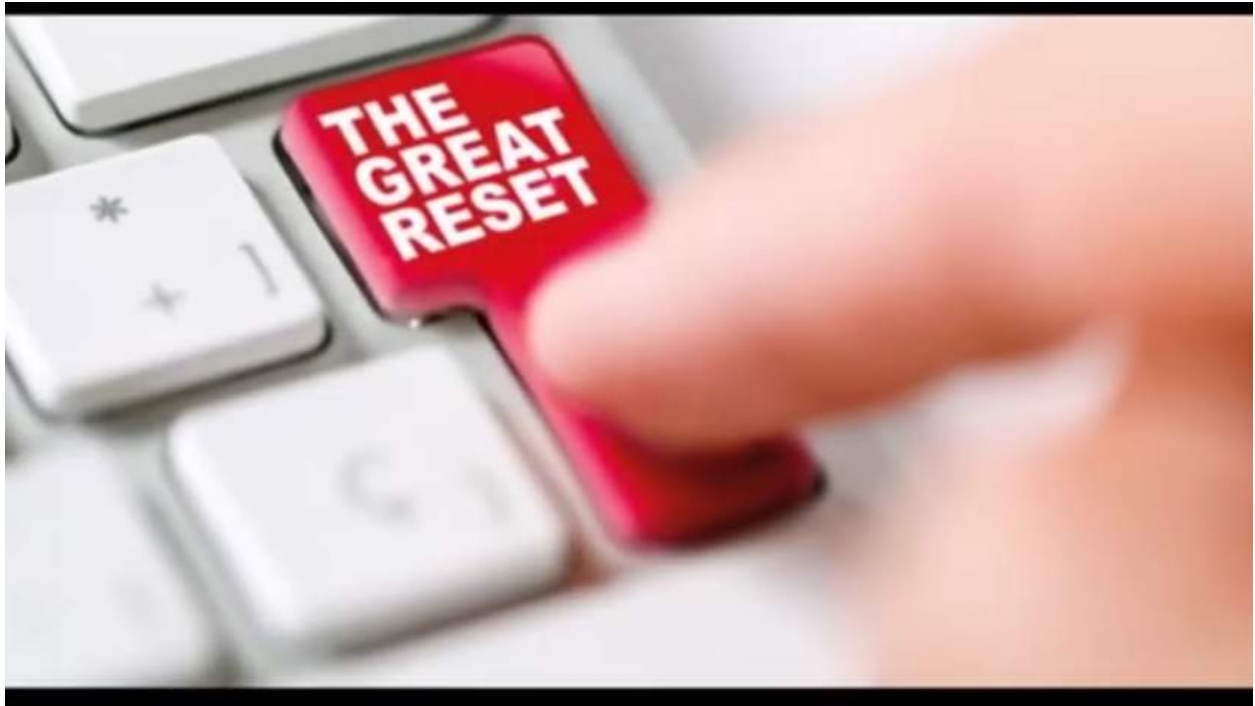

What we take from the Earth, we take from ourselves, from our own heart.

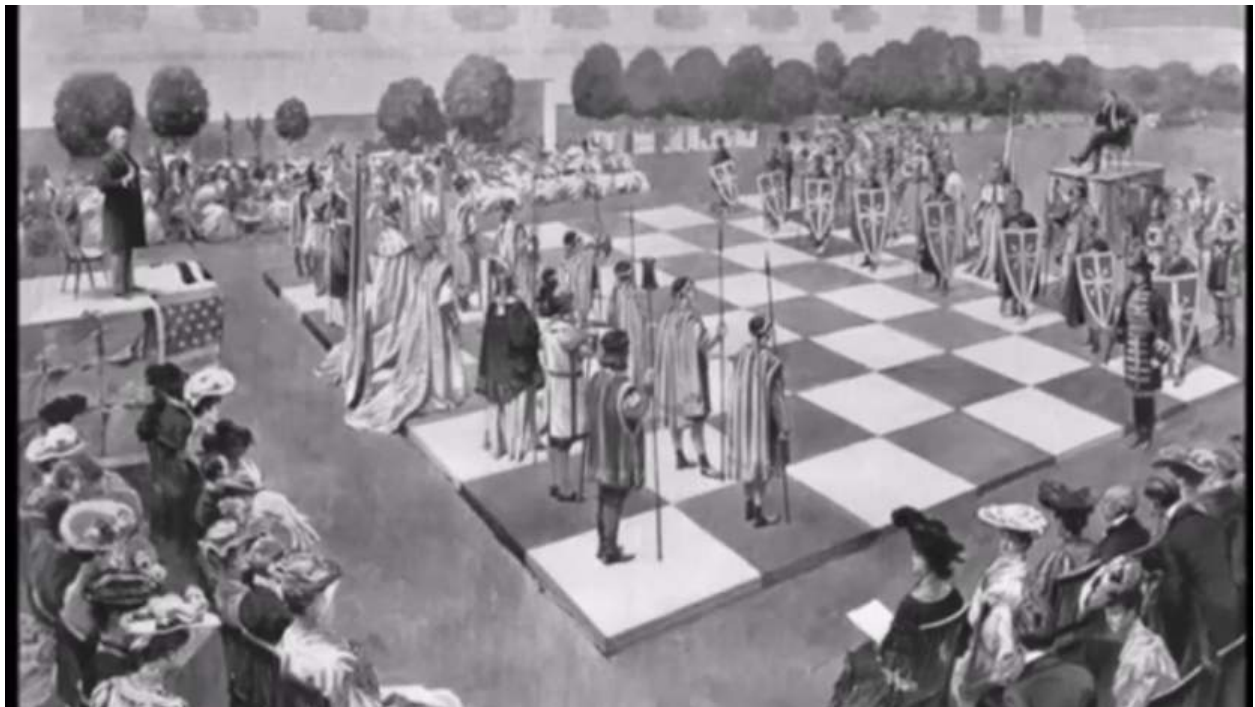

What we take from the earth, we take from ourselves.

From our own heart.

The ending of time is also the new beginning, which is the reason behind the symbol of the Great Reset.

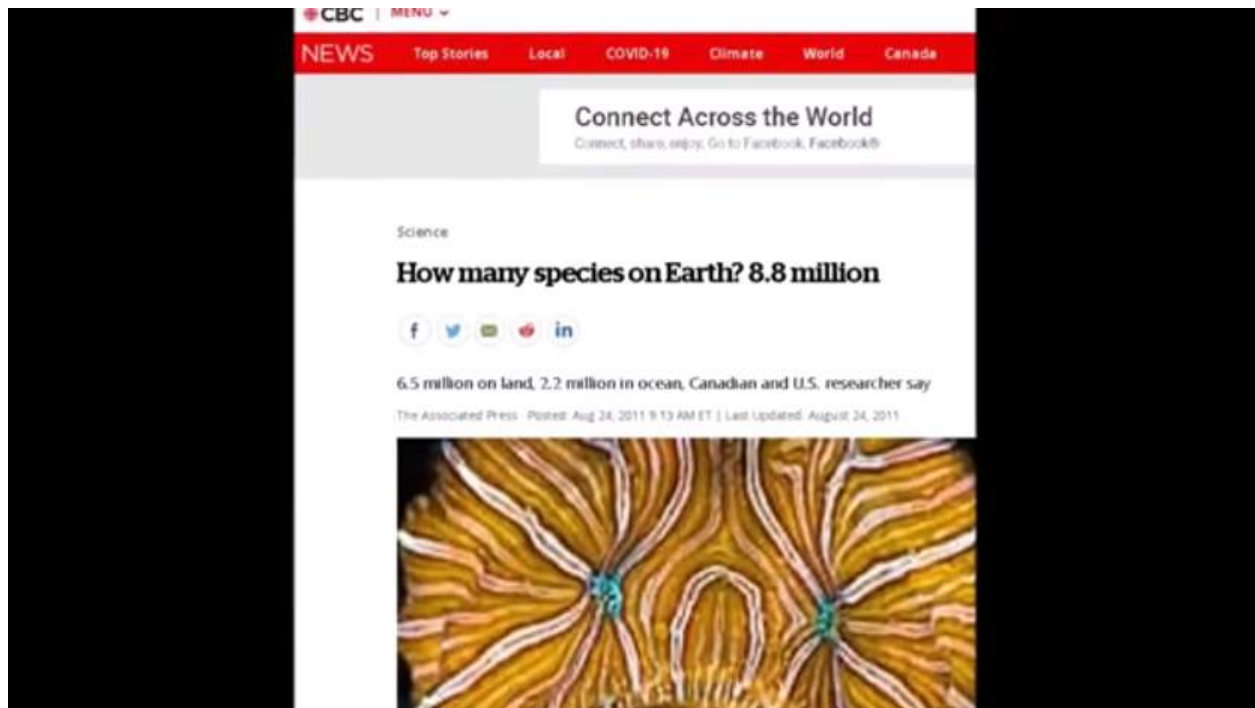

For this to happen, all of the players must be brought into the game. Everything becomes nothing.

The last of the invites to the so-called 'Birthday Party of the Ages' have been sent and the final circus act is now in full swing. If anyone fails to comprehend why things are continually getting crazier by the day, this is exactly the reason why. The real freaks in the circus are starting to show up and it's going to become a grand spectacle. This creates more displacement of the Earth from those with dreams of consuming everything. After all, the mind believes that the Earth is just there for our pleasure and amusement. The Mind declares that we are more relevant than every other creature and so when it is time for our businesses and dreams, big or small, to be set up, we need to destroy those habitats that are "in the way".

The last of the "invites" to the so-called birthday party of the ages have been sent, and the final circus act is now in full swing. If any want to comprehend why things are continually getting crazier by the day, this is exactly the reason why. The real 'freaks' in the circus are starting to show up, and it's going to become a grand spectacle. This creates more displacement of the earth from those with dreams of consuming everything. After all, the mind believes that the Earth is "just there" for our pleasure and amusement. The mind declares that we are more relevant than every other creature, and so when it is time for our businesses and dreams - big or small - to be set up, we need to destroy those habitats that are "in the way."

8.8 million species that are just there to serve us.

Incalculable amounts of pain wrought upon those species to feed our desires and pleasures.

The symbol continues in its obvious proclamation every year. 8.8 million tons of plastic ends up in the ocean.

8.8 million people die every year from cancer.

8.8 million die from air pollution.

The consequences are coming full circle.

The Big Apple of New York, with its former Twin Towers, hit the population of 8.8 million in 2021 during the quarantine and crowning of the world rebirth.

Of the many in this world who were symbolized to be walking down the Broadway of material desires.

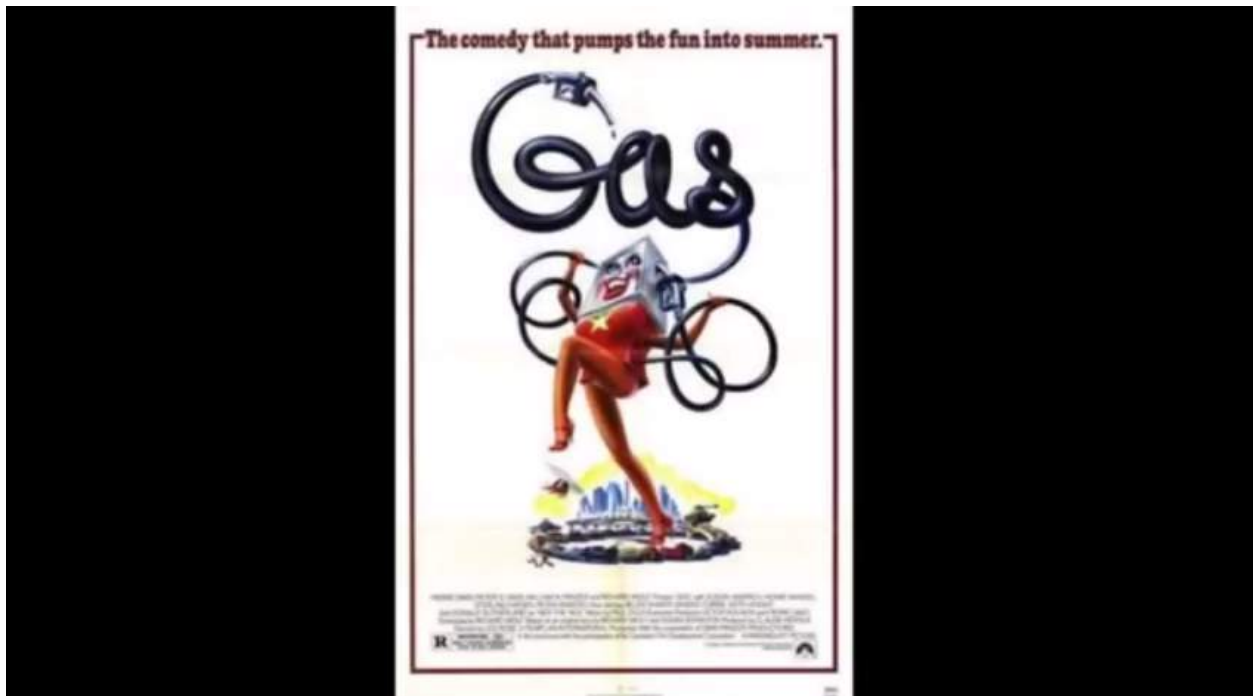

While taking another bite from the fruit of Good and Evil.

That is because this joke is getting old. It used to be gold, but now it's just getting old.

It's running out of gas, as it said.

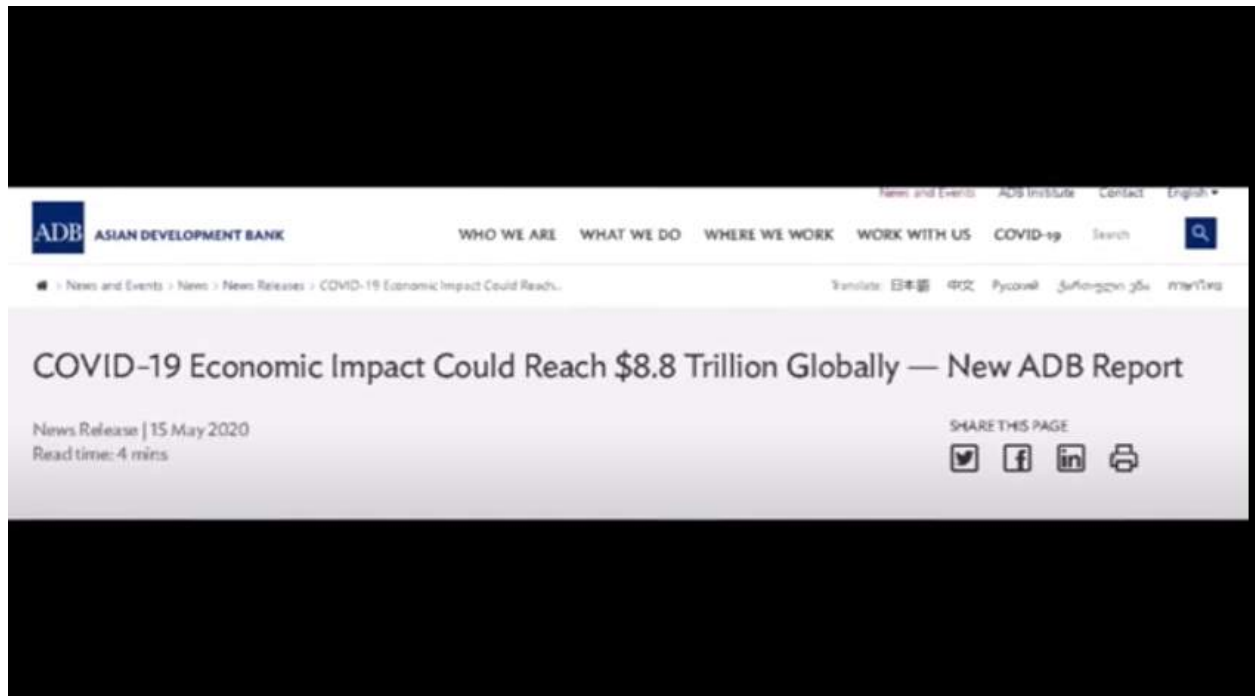

Cognate with the 8.8 million barrels of finished gas consumed in the U.S. per day in 2021.

In 2021, about 134.83 billion gallons (or about 3.21 billion barrels)¹ of finished motor gasoline were consumed in the United States, an average of about 369 million gallons per day (or about 8.80 million barrels per day). Mar 15, 2022

https://www.eia.gov > tools > faqs > faq

How much gasoline does the United States consume? - EIA

The fictional economy tagged itself into the equation. When it was said in 2020 that the so-called 'pandemic' would globally impact the economy by 8.8 trillion.

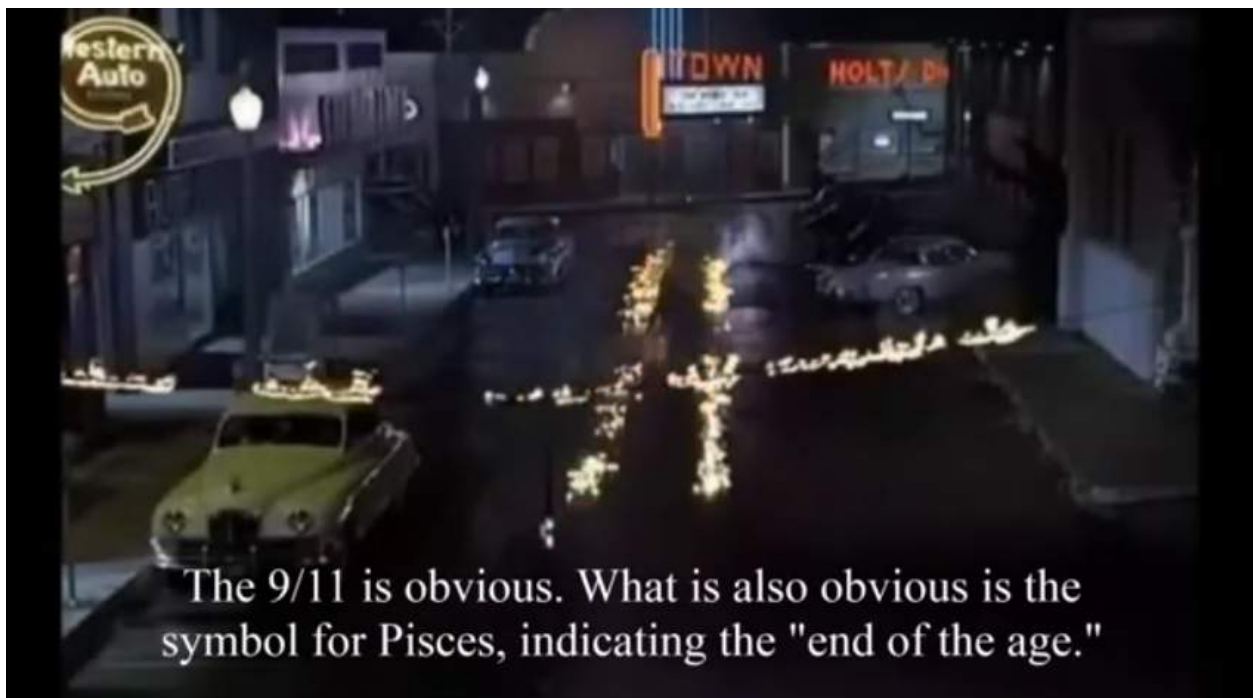

In the field of entertainment, the symbol was most obvious in the Back to the Future Trilogy directed by Robert Zemeckis.

With the time machine needing to hit 88 miles an hour which inevitably manufactured a time paradox.

The 9/11 symbolism was prominent in the movie.

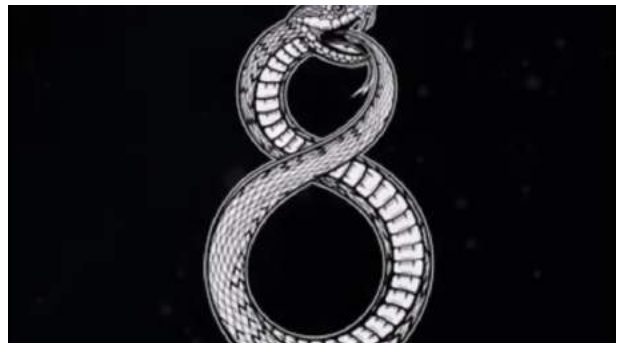

Most notably the scene where the 'Twin Pines [Towers] Mall' changed to the 'Lone Pine Mall'.

Mr. Zemeckis also directed the film The Walk about tightrope Walker Philippe Petit who traversed the Twin Towers of New York in 1985. He crossed the high wire he set up eight times.

[The wire from the clock tower in Back to The Future also connects to the tightrope wire.]

This is not an exhaustive list by any means these symbols and signs are most prominently Written in the Stars.

There are officially said to be 88 constellations.

Along with the 8.8 billion earth-like planets in the Milky Way galaxy.

The 8.8 billion earth-like planets being the reflection of the Earth's hearts on this one.

Every individual being a piece of the broken entirety.

And in the short years to come, the population of humans will ultimately complete the symbol by hitting a population of 8.8 billion. Whereby the Twin Towers of the Sun and Moon will fall, and a single Tower will be raised for the entire world to see, showing which side has been crowned the victor of this 'game'. Everyone will have their 20/20 glasses on at that moment, whether they like it or not. For God is Not mocked. After a 'full house' is a 'royal flush'. This is why in Chinese 88 is used as a written indication to say 'bye-bye'.

In the short years to come, the population of humans will ultimately complete the symbol by hitting a population of 8.8 billion, whereby the 'twin towers' of the sun and moon will "fall" and a single 'tower' will be raised for the entire world to SEE, showing which "side" has been crowned (corona-tion) the "victor" of this game. Everyone will have their 20/20 glasses on at that moment, whether they like it or not, for God is NOT mocked. After a 'full house' is a 'royal' flush. This is why in Chinese, 88 is used as a written indication to say 'bye-bye.'

The Paradox must be resolved, if one would have a chance at a chance.

$$0 = 1$$

The opportunity of an Eternity.

There is no choice when one sees with their Heart. All-in is not just a metaphor.

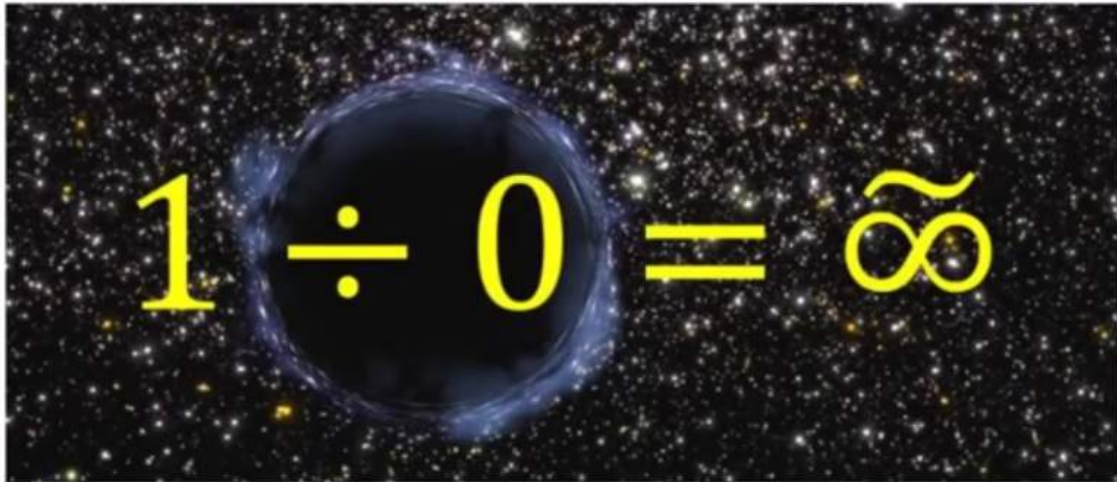

The revelation of this symbol is not being given to bring about fear and panic. It is being shown to indicate that we cannot treat all of Creation and each other like a joke. We cannot turn the vision of the Creator into a GAME that mocks Infinity. There is indeed a very high price to be paid for doing this, and the consequences of these actions should be obvious. How we treat the Earth is how we treat each other, and how we treat each other is how we treat ourselves. If this cannot be seen then one is choosing to remain blind and foolish and there is nothing that any messenger can do to change that.

The revelation of this symbol is not being given to bring about fear and panic – it is being shown to indicate that we cannot treat all of creation and each other like a joke. We cannot turn the vision of the Creator into a GAME that mocks Infinity. There is, indeed, a very high price to be paid for doing this, and the consequences of these actions should be obvious. How we treat the earth is how we treat each other, and how we treat each other is how we treat ourselves. If this cannot be seen, then one is choosing to remain blind and foolish, and there is nothing that any messenger can do to change that.

The first things shall be the last things and thus it is deemed necessary to repeat what was first stated here.

We all know that in math, it is not possible to divide a number by zero. It leads to infinity:

$$1 \div 0 = \infty$$

The Eternal can never be attained through the repetitive pursuit of temporary satisfactions. When you are truly free from Desire, the very root of it has been pulled up and is no longer part of you. Then you are also free from anxiety, worry, fear and all the rest of these elements that coerce you into chasing after everything you feel separated from. There is then a total comprehension of why there is nowhere to go. A total comprehension of being completely content. Of being complete. Convincing yourself that you're in the state and legitimately being in it are quite different qualities. So long as there is the desire to chase after anything there is still desire, and thus the seeds remain sown into the root of your being, which are able to continue growing and manifesting the whole structure of the problem. As long as there is desire there can never be freedom, and the fight against this fact creates all kinds of anguish, fear and self-pity. Self-pity which buries itself once again into egotism which propels you to chase after your own ideas to begin the same process all over again.

An endless chase after nothing.

The eternal can never be attained through the repetitive pursuit of temporary satisfactions. When you are truly free from desire – the very root of it has been pulled up and is no longer part of you – then you are also free from anxiety, worry, fear, and all the rest of these elements that coerce you into chasing after everything that you feel separated from. There is then a total comprehension of why there is 'nowhere to go.' A total comprehension of being completely content. Of being complete. Convincing yourself that you are in this state, and legitimately being in it, are quite different qualities. So long as there is the desire to chase after anything, there is still desire, and thus the seeds remain sown into the root of your being which are able to continue growing and manifesting the whole structure of the problem. As long as there is desire, there can never be freedom, and the fight against this fact creates all kinds of anguish, fear, and self-pity. Self-pity which buries itself once again into egotism which propels you to chase after your own ideas to begin the same process all over again.
An endless chase after nothing.